BOMA SAN FRANCISCO ELECTS PRESIDENT FOR 2001

San Francisco, November 07, 2000 – The Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) of San Francisco announced today that Todd Robinette, 47, of Equity Office Properties Trust has been elected as its president for the 2001 business year. Additionally, Kennard Perry, 46, of The Swig Company and Marsha Ramsey, 44, of HCV Pacific Partners were named as president elect (for 2001) and treasurer, respectively. The three will serve on BOMA San Francisco's Executive Committee, which sets policy for and provides overall direction to the organization.

"BOMA San Francisco continually demonstrates its ability to have a positive impact on matters affecting the local business community and, in turn, its members," said Robinette, who holds the professional designations of RPA and CPM. "My goal is to sustain BOMA's voice by further encouraging and providing opportunities for our members to take an active role in the public policy arena – and by ensuring the programs and services we offer serve as a valuable resource for them."

Mr. Robinette's responsibilities will include chairing the Association's executive committee and board of directors. He currently serves as the regional managing director for Equity Office Properties Trust, the nation's largest publicly held owner and manager of office properties. He joined the company after 17 years with CB Commercial Management Services, which is now CB Richard Ellis, Inc. Previously, Mr. Robinette served three years with Bank of America Investment Real Estate.

Mr. Robinette received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Hampshire College in Amherst, MA. He resides in Burlingame with his wife, Sally, and three children, Nicholas, Chloe and Carson.

BOMA San Francisco is a not-for-profit association providing an array of services to members from the local commercial real estate industry, including labor negotiations, legislative and regulatory advocacy, market condition reports and operating expense information. It also provides for the professional development of its members through seminars, workshops and certification programs. BOMA San Francisco is federated with BOMA International, an organization consisting of 100 local associations in North America, as well as several, affiliated BOMAs worldwide. BOMA San Francisco is a founding member of BOMA California.
